Restorative Dialogue Learning Objectives
After completing the online module and offline exercises, students will be able to:

- Discuss what restorative dialogue is and how it differs from a common understanding of dialogue
- Identify the characteristics and qualities that facilitate restorative dialogue
- Identify key restorative dialogue practices
- Identify the benefits of restorative dialogue
- Identify where restorative justice can be practiced
- Given a scenario, identify how restorative dialogue could help
- Discuss the history of restorative dialogue and recognize how it is practiced in different cultures
- Recognize that restorative dialogue is evidence-based
- Give several examples of how everyone can practice restorative dialogue in their daily lives
- Discuss how they can personally practice restorative dialogue in their personal lives and their community
- Discuss how restorative justice can contribute to whole systems healing
- Identify a situation in their lives that they think could benefit from restorative dialogue and identify what specifically they could do
- Choose at least one area in their life to begin practicing restorative dialogue
- Identify resources to learn more about restorative dialogue and how they can practice it