

Seeking Diverse Perspectives

Think of a group you are (or have been) part of that has some diversity. Consider who speaks in the group.

- Who has the most “air-time”? Is everyone heard? If not, what might you do to change it? How could you start to do this right away?
- How do you respond when someone comes to you with a diverse perspective that differs from your own? How would you like to respond?
- Have you ever been surprised by a perspective you hadn't thought of that helped you see things in a new way?
